BROTHER CAMP WINONA

We are proud to be affiliated with Winona Camps for boys. As many of you know, the camps were owned by the Cobb family through the first generation and then split into two separate businesses in the late twenties. We still work closely with the Ordway Family, owners and directors of Winona. For the convenience of families we have similar dates, transportation, advertising and winter reunion schedules. During the summer sibling visits occur on Sundays. We have close to 50 families a year that share siblings or cousins; or, little girls who have Winona Dads; or Winona campers with Wyonegonic Grandmothers . . . so many different scenarios exist. The camps are located four miles apart on Moose Pond.

Wyonegonic Camps

Healthy Habits for Kids

Dear Wyonegonic Friends,

Little do the campers know that Wyonegonic's mission has threads of educational components woven through the experience. Kids realize that camp is about making friends and enjoying camp activities. They know that they can learn how to improve their crawl stroke in Moose Pond waters or try for the elusive bulls eye at the archery range. But, do they realize the true value of camp?

Do they recognize that camp staff also teach kids how to be good to one another, how to cooperate, how to share, how to be a team player, how to stand up for what is right, and how to respect individual differences? This is not why they choose to come to camp, but these life lessons happen at Wyonegonic through careful planning and timely delivery by staff.

Other huge experiences they encounter teach them how to:

- * feel safe away from home
- * make choices and keep commitments
- * try new things
- * reach out to others and build new relationships
- * trust the entire camp community
- * be happy without being plugged in
- * experiment with a variety of nutritious foods
- * establish habits for a greener future
- * feel good from exercise
- * get to know self

For those of you who have had the camp experience, you can relate. We usually hear from alumnae ten or twenty years later when they express the positive impact camp had on their own growth and journey. For parents who have not enjoyed the overnight camp experience, much of the value of camp is undefined. The values are foreign to them until they gather the courage to try camp for their own children. They need to speak with others who have benefitted from the experience. So, thank you to many alumnae who have shared their memories with others about giving camp a try. We need and appreciate your efforts.

There is a short film currently circulating nationally through many communities by schools and parent groups entitled "The Race to Nowhere..." We understand it focuses on today's children who are running from one activity to another in their after school life and not finding enough time to mellow out and get to know themselves. Camps can help be part of the solution in offering this need that is missing in many lives of today's youth. The value is magnified when it happens in the great outdoors of Maine.

Good camp programs balance scheduled time with unstructured time; choices vs some expectations. We feel that we are in a comfortable place with this balance, but always reviewing how we do things with good annual feed back from campers, parents and staff.

We are the lucky recipients of many compliments that range from, "my daughter is bursting with confidence, since her return from camp" to "thank you for teaching my child how to enjoy vegetables" to "I can't believe how nice my daughter is to her brother. She even helped him make his bed!"

As of April 1 we are still enrolling new families who have children ages 8-12; we are waitlisted at ages 13-18. Please have families and friends seek more information by giving us a call at 207-452-2051 or email carol@wyonegonic.com. It is not too late for Summer 2011.

Happy Spring,

Jean McMullan reports it was plain old fashioned fun to be surprised by gathered family in celebration of their 60th wedding anniversary at daughter Kathy's home in Jensen Beach, Florida last spring. Andy and Jean spend 7 months in their condo on the beach in Vero Beach, FL and 5 months at their beloved ALC home in Hope, Maine.

Andy & Jean McMullan

Mary Hobler Hyson reports that her daughter Katie was married at their summer vacation home in Hartland, Connecticut in a small, not too formal wedding with family and friends. The Hyson family still enjoys a week in Bridgton, Maine with family members every summer. Betty Baxter Sternad and her husband have moved to a wonderful Life Care Community in Redding, Connecticut. Jane Merriman Keltner enjoys entertaining her children at her North Carolina home. She knits for many charities and watches a lot of baseball. Lee Louitt Tauck attended pasta school in Lucca Italy last summer. She resides on Sanibel Island in Florida. Ann Royal Charlesworth is living in Falmouth, Maine and is aided by Zoomtext on the computer as she adjusts to failing eyesight. Carol spotted Ann at a chamber music concert in Portland.

Mary Ellen Daniels McCormick had a great reunion with Sally Barnes Sonne in Tuxedo Park, New York. Both are avid duplicate bridge players, love to swim and enjoy the out of doors. The 48 hour visit went too quickly. Mary Ellen has grandchildren that live between Los Angeles and Salt Lake City. Sally Barnes Sonne reports that her 12th grandchild was born. They live between Seattle Washington and South Carolina. Currently, she and Chris have the pleasure of four grandchildren living with them in Tuxedo Park while their son's Chappaqua home is being prepared for invasion by a family of six.

Chloe King writes that a piece of her will always be on the shores of Moose Pond. In her retirement from teaching, she enjoys travel (last year Russia), golf and friends. Margie Acton Driscoll writes her grandsons range from college to 2 $\frac{1}{2}$. She dabbles in real estate but enjoys travel, golf and family. Marsha Hahn Wackerly enjoyed her walk through camp in June. She also visited Ruth Wyman while in the state of Maine. Marsha has remarried and lives in Jackson, Wyoming where cross country skiing is a weekly event. She and Michael took a delayed honeymoon and visited three of the Hawaiian Islands. Mary Trafton loves to stay involved with her grandchildren. She is in Lexington, Massachusetts walking a bit everyday and a vibrant conversationalist with over 90 years of stories to share. Carol enjoyed lunch with her this winter. Page and Ginnie Cobb Thibodeaux send greetings to their favorite camp in Maine from California. Bill and Carol Wiggins Kamm are well settled in Richmond Virginia in their retirement community. (See Carol's written thoughts about the value of camp.) Trudy Bower is still with the UN in Rome. She and her girls went to Australia for Christmas where her daughter, Libby, is enjoying a semester abroad from Emory College. Her older daughter, Alex, has graduated from Skidmore College and is working in Saratoga. Diane Smith enjoyed a trip to Churchill Manitoba last October to see the polar bears. Sue Hyman Besharov is enjoying the role of Grandmother with three young babes recently welcomed into the family. Sarah Worthington Greening wrote from London inquiring about camp for her Granddaughter Gabriella. "How lucky you are to have Wyonegonic. It does have a magic spell - captured so well in the photographs," she writes... Bevie Lord spent a few days at Family Camp. She reports that son Bill returned to Fort Bragg after 14 months in Afghanistan and his Sarah, an 82nd Airborne Nurse, returns from Qatar, Kabul by 8/18. Barbara Flum Stein and her husband stopped by at the Philadelphia Reunion. Both daughters, Anna and Emily are at WestPoint.

Emily & Anna Stein

Louise "Lovey" Zeller Curley writes, "The happiest summers of my life were spent on Moose Pond. I loved climbing Mt. Pleasant, receiving canoe rewards, perfecting swim strokes, eating excellent meals and the friendships of outstanding campers and counselors. I was 9 when I took the overnight train." Janet Glendenning Loop and her husband moved to Ithaca, New York to be closer to grandchildren. They also traveled to Australia a year ago because their daughter works for the Australian government. Anne Darneille Snodgrass and her husband are starting to cull out belongings from their Washington DC home. They are now Florida residents in Hillsboro Beach with tennis courts and the Atlantic Ocean close by. They continue to summer in Maine, renting a home in the Bridgton area. Anne reports about her Wyonegonic grown children: "Annie loves her MBA program at Dartmouth Tuck School of Business; Virginia took her comprehensive exams for her PHD in Education Policy and Planning; Helen graduated from Stanford with a Master's in Education, focusing on high school biology. She is now teaching at Prep Charter School in Houston."

Steve, Carol & Ora

Ora Brine, went out for an August paddle in her gifted "Wyonegonic Canoe" celebrating her 50th summer in the camp office. She reports that Carol Merriman Osmer stopped by for lunch in Melbourne FL home. Susan Trafton Edmunds enjoys her grandchildren, yoga and tai chi, work in her garden and weaving in her studio. Lissa Owens Hodder had two wonderful young family members as campers this year. She writes, "Tell them to savor every moment." Lissa lives in Cambridge Massachusetts but is in Maine for part of the summer.

Jack Erler says his newly built home in Culebra, Puerto Rico is close to being finished. They have moved in! Jack continues his work as legal counsel for the Maine Youth Camp Organization and is trying to cut back on his law practice hours in Portland. Judy Johnson Foster's husband passed away. She is enjoying her three granddaughters and hopes they will be at camp in a few summers. Their Mom is alum, Kathryn Foster Meyer. They live outside Watertown, New York. Muffy Williamson Barhydt enjoyed a fall walk through Wyonegonic and sharing those memories with a good friend. Joanie St Clair Goodhew reports that her husband has responded positively to stem cell transplant and they hope to travel this summer. Elaine Rains hobby is gardening and landscaping. She is all over the Denver area as a social worker, helping the elderly and disabled, the abused and neglected. She is an advocate to help children make better choices. Katie Jacobs Eyre has taken up pottery as a hobby but still enjoys her social work and many clients. She and Bob planned a trip to the Galapagos in January. Nancy Sansouci enjoyed a Pleasant MT hike and ski this year. She also plays weekly tennis. Nancy brought a new toy to Family Camp, a stand up paddle board.

Nancy Cordiner Judge with children & grandchildren

Nancy Cordiner Judge and Dr Dick enjoyed a Thanksgiving visit with their four children and dozen grandchildren in Woodstock Vermont. As the Judges say, "dozens of cousins." Carlton Smith has been 24 years at the same school in Vermont and surrounds herself with other passions in her vicinity - Community Theater and hiking trails. Carlton continues to direct our Family Camp and we are so grateful she brings fresh energy to the job in mid-August every summer. Carlton Smith, Randi Barrett, Sarah Griesemer and Edith Phylfe Walsh gathered in Vermont at a reception to honor the life of Randi's Dad.

Carlton, Randi, Sarah, Edith

Amanda Kirkpatrick Dickerson reports that senior camper Zoe is deciding on boarding school and will be returning to Wyo for her 6th summer.

Amanda Kirkpatrick Dickerson & Family

Three Generations of Love from Carol Wiggins Kamm

Our family love affair with Camp Wyonegonic began in June 1941 when eleven-year-old Mary Carol Wiggins boarded a "sleeper" train in New York City bound for the state of Maine. Departing the train in Brownfield, Maine, campers climbed up into the open stake truck (now illegal) and soon were deposited at the end of Moose Pond to enjoy a beautiful boat ride from Denmark to Camp Wyonegonic (no roads into camp in those days!). Campers, visiting parents, food, supplies all arrived to camp by boat back then.

From day one campers were singing songs, learning to row a boat or paddle a canoe ... to make a bedroll with 3 blankets & 6 blanket pins ... living in tents in a community away from home and making friends who would last a lifetime. Carol soon found herself being nicknamed "Wiggie," not after the dining lodges, but, you guessed it! Check the maiden name. That name has stuck with very, very old friends.

Fast forward to the 1960's ... Wiggie's children experienced the wonders of Camp Wyonegonic and Camp Winona. To this day mention of those two places bring smiles and happy memories to the conversations of the two generations. All are in agreement that we never could have done such exciting activities and met friends from so many different areas without our camp connections.

Fast forward to the 1990's ... Wiggie's two grandchildren came to Wyo and repeated the joys of singing, going on trips, learning to sail, living in cabins with campers and counselors who came from far off places. Kathryn went on to be a counselor ... teaching and learning as she continued her Wyonegonic experience. Her mother, Susan, spent many summers working in the camp office seeing Wyonegonic from that perspective.

Almost 70 years have come and gone since our love of Camp Wyonegonic began. Little did anyone realize way back then the impact the end result of that train ride would have on so many others ... skills learned, friendships made and continued to this day. We are grateful to the Cobbs and the Sudduths for their leadership of Wyonegonic ... a very important part of our lives.

Abby Burbank becomes the second director of Chewonki camp for girls

Abby Burbank has been training waterfront counselors in Life Guard, Water Safety Instruction and Canoeing for almost two decades at Wyonegonic during the month of June. Last summer, Abby was also a co-leader on our 3 week wilderness canoe trip for 16 year olds

The Chewonki Foundation, a nationally recognized environmental education foundation has announced Abby will become the foundation's next director of Chewonki Camp for Girls. "Abby has all of the experience and personal qualities we were hoping for in our next director. I am particularly impressed by her passion for the outdoors, her commitment to girls' health, and her ease and comfort in the wilderness setting. She artfully combines the depth and breadth of experience we were seeking for this leadership role." Abby's background includes a significant career in athletic coaching of girls and women, 17 years of leadership and training experience at Camp Wyonegonic in Denmark, Maine, and a variety of other leadership experiences. Abby grew up in Brunswick, Maine, and began attending camp herself at the tender age of 5.

Linda Bail Casey and her husband have moved back to Bucks County, Pennsylvania north of Philadelphia because of a new job opportunity. They spend as much time as possible in their newly completed retirement home in Freeport, Maine. Linda continues to paint and was part of a Maine artist show this winter in Freeport. She also had a solo show of 35 paintings in Princeton, New Jersey. Bea Waring reports that Lisa Waring's husband succumbed to heart failure at age 49. Her three Wyonegonic sister's, Laurie Waring Kelly, Kim Waring Wright and Wendy Waring Hillner rallied and supported her during this time in continuing to run the business "the Lobster Pool Restaurant" in Rockport Massachusetts and offer the needed moral support. Hope Dana and her husband took their two Wyonegonic daughters to Australia for the Christmas holidays.

Elizabeth Perkins, Laura Feguson, Margaret Perkins

Libby Dana Hall lives in Teton Village with her family of three children. Her oldest, Betina is coming to Wyonegonic this summer. Elizabeth Hardy Carey reports from San Diego that the family mini-van has logged over 100,000 as she tries to support the lives of four children who are located on four different school campuses. The Careys still spend the summer in Northeast Harbor, Maine. Barb Koontz Hollis reports that camp friendships do last a lifetime. This summer she caught up with Kathy Haubert Woolgar and Courtney Smith Perevalova who she had not seen for over 20 years. They had no challenges in talking about "the good old days." Barb and Jeff live in Reading, Massachusetts and manage trips to Florida for rounds of golf and visits with grandchildren.

Barb and Jeff Hollis and Perkins grandchildren

Lisa Leydon has moved from Devon, Pennsylvania to Hawaii to be closer to her grandchildren and daughter Katie Goldener Brown. She loves her new life. She reports a new grandson, Parker to daughter Eliza Goldener Whitney. Eliza visited Wyonegonic last summer with her husband. Joanna Hills and Marilyn Bodnar enjoyed a weekend at Carol's Farmhouse in October. They hiked mountains and enjoyed walks through camp. Edie Sonne Hall juggles three young children and work in Seattle. They manage to pack everyone up to travel to see family and play with cousins. The children have Grandparents that live in Hawaii and New York State. Amy Kubacki and her family have moved from Seattle to Cleveland Ohio. Their daughter Elizabeth remains in Washington State and has applied to nursing school. Katy Angstadt Rahe is walking in her 10th Avon Breast Cancer Walk in honor of her Mom, Suzy. Jen Shultz Shad's daughters Molly and Grace will be 6 and 4 this summer, and they would be enthusiastic about camp some summer in the future. Jen and her family built a home in Elkins New Hampshire. Sarah Day Bankowski has three girls. They have just managed an extensive remodel in Boulder, Colorado where Sarah is a Mom, wife and nurse practitioner. Loren Robeck is completing an MBA at Carnegie Mellon in Pittsburg. Upon completion, Loren hopes to return to San Francisco and become involved in the field of sustainability. When time allows, Loren joins her parents for backpacking in Yosemite National Park, an activity she started as a camper at Wyo. Roger and Becky Parsons are enjoying life on Cape Cod where Becky is caring for her Mom. They report grandchild #2 has been born and their youngest of the three boys, Simon married last fall. Debbie Atwood reports she and Bill spend as many weekends as possible at their Bay House in Virginia's Northern Neck. During the Christmas holiday, they skied in the North Tahoe area with their grown children Abbey and Ryan.

The Atwoods

Mary Murphy resides in Cambridge, Massachusetts and works at Formaggio Kitchen, a cheese shop where she is baking, selling and marketing special cheeses and dishes. Mary has aspirations to open her own shop someday. Last summer, she traveled in France and India. Ean Cuthbert hopes to move back East when a job opportunity becomes available. Meantime, Dillon and McKenzie (age 10) are active and well. Sissy Urista Gonzalez and her husband Gerardo brought their active son to the Lexington Reunion. Santiago is a happy toddler. Sissy and her family are currently in Johannesburg South Africa on a temporary assignment but expect to be moving this summer to company headquarters for Proctor and Gamble in Cincinnati, Ohio.

1970 . . . The Sudduth Years

Anne did a beautiful job with the flower arrangements at the memorial service for her good neighbor and friend, David Lubrano. Barbara McDonald says she and Scott spent two weeks on Mooselookmeguntic Lake last summer, and being back in Maine felt good. Her daughter, Susan McDonald Bekkmo and her family have moved from Norway to Austin, Texas where Susan is working at the University of Texas. "I am working as Assistant Director, MBA Career Services with a focus on the international students. I have wanted to move into this type of career for over 10 years and am thrilled to finally be doing it!" Her brother Bruce (Winona alum) has enrolled his daughter Brooke for her first Wyo summer. Sarita Smith Hanley came to the Greenwich Reunion. She reported that her Dad passed away unexpectedly in the fall.

Andy Hogue and Jessica Ruggeri are enjoying parenting William and Beatrice. They work in NYC and live in Bronxville, New York. Anna Sims Bartel brought her son Ezra to Wyo for a visit last summer. They live close by in Auburn, Maine. Besty Jones Macomber continues to direct musicals for her community in Richmondville New York. She also has a quilting business and makes quilts for others. Her daughter, Heather Macomber Beuparlaunt, has graduated from her medical residency program in Family Practice. She is now stationed at Ft Wainwright in Fairbanks, Alaska. Paula Williams Butler is teaching at Cincinnati Country Day and involved in new teaching methods called POGIL which is recognized as a national initiative. Tracey Mischka Chaffin is the CFO for a private equity firm and is an equity partner. She and her husband try to keep up with their growing boys who are involved with sports in Harrisburg North Carolina. Sue Elderidge Jakiela is working for a small company near their home in Wayne Pennsylvania. Her two boys are in college. Jean Elderidge Gutsche has a son at the Naval Academy and daughter at the University of Florida. David and Wendy Wescott are looking ahead to the near future and have purchased a retirement home in Bridgton, Maine.

Diane White Mealo writes "We make the annual long trip from Florida to Fryeburg to see my parents." Olivia loved Family Camp. Jody Ruhl Barnard and her husband climbed Pleasant Mt during their camp visit. Both daughters, Jane and Anne were on staff last summer. Jody went on an Early Childhood cruise in Mexico. Marie Meany Drury and her family of two boys enjoyed a visit to Vermont to visit friends and escape the Georgia heat. Kathy Callaghan Rex reports she and her husband continue to work at the charter school in Colorado Springs with the Landsharks Running and Team Handball programs. Their oldest son is a freshman at Harvard and on the track team as a high jump specialist. Pam Bucknam Hale can hardly wait for "Charley" to be of camp age.

Samantha Charlotte Hale

Kim Kroeger Miles loves living in Sedona, Arizona. Her daughter, Morgan, enjoyed her first summer in Senior Camp at Wyonegonic. Jen Blakeman Terry enjoyed a YMCA Family Camp in Idaho with her two children. Her goal for 2011 is to complete an Olympic distance triathlon. Jen tutors chemistry on a part time basis.

Hilary and Dutch Barhydt

Hilary Barhydt and Dutch enjoy their annual visit during Family Camp. Last August, both sons were able to join them for their annual float down Moose Pond.

Nancy "Sam" Barnes is living in Mozambique. Daughter, Maya, is currently living with her. Pat Hettinger Klever's work with Lifewater International in California has her traveling to Thailand this spring.

The Walters Girls

Liz Tauck Walters and her sister Kiki Tauck Mahar hope to enjoy Family Camp together some summer soon. Liz has three girls and Kiki and her daughter joined us for Family Camp last summer. Kate Dahowski Quirk relocated back to New York after 6 years in Scotland. "Jonny and I now have a 3 1/2 year old son named Calum Angus. We are looking forward to the summer and Family Camp." Sue Jasin earned the name of "Professor Cupcake", as she returned to Wyonegonic for a month as a volunteer baker in the camp kitchen. Chris Holzhauer Mallon states her 3 years on Wyonegonic staff steered her course in life. She has been able to surround her children with the love of outdoors cementing her own youthful experiences including hikes and canoe trips at Wyonegonic. The children now work in outdoor disciplines in the National Park System and Forestry in Montana. Erin Roberts, oldest daughter of Carlton Smith is in an Off-Broadway show at the Ensemble Theater. She is also player/coach of the Broadway League softball team and they won the championship last year. Amanda Haan has moved from NYC to Indiana. This summer, she and a past camper, Carolina Bergaz, came for a visit, a climb up Pleasant Mt, a stay at the Sudduth Farmhouse and a few camp activities. They loved visiting their cabin in Senior Camp. Later in the summer another camper, Anastasia Mizitova from Moscow visited Wyo and enjoyed a day of Family Camp activities. The following week Amanda took the Russian family shopping in NYC. Since their August visit Amanda is now married and Carolina has a baby boy.

Katie

Katie Hyson Nierenburg and her husband honeymooned in New Zealand after a summer wedding. They live in New Hampshire where she teaches and he is a computer/engineer working on a defense project. Lisa Faley Howard now lives in Fryeburg Maine. She writes, "Thanks to George Sudduth, I still love to hug trees." Karen and Victor Reynecke have moved from South Africa to New Zealand where they are raising their two children. Carrie Feager Bruhlemann has a new teaching assignment in Interlochen Switzerland. She has enjoyed recent travels to Morocco, Paris, Italy, and Germany. Mom, Pat Feager, is enjoying her 8th year as a Texas Realtor and enjoys some professional volunteer board work in her field. Cindy Haggas who lives in Salmon, Idaho says she rocks in her Wiggie Chair every day. This chair was made in 1973 by Norm Hale.

Anne Judge Favalaro and her family have moved from Lincoln to Belmont Massachusetts. Her daughter, Carey, is at Middlebury College in Vermont and currently a counselor at Wyonegonic. Anne continues her work with grieving children and helping families through transition. Sara Judge McCalpin was a guest of the White House when Chinese leadership was in Washington, DC recently. Sara is President of "The China Institute" with an office in NYC. She makes two trips a year to China. Sara's daughter, Haley, returns as a CIT this summer. Jenny Stewart loved her work as director of Zajac Ranch in North West Canada. Visa complications have forced her to leave a job she loved and after a quick stint in Australia she is now back in her homeland of Ireland. Caroline Harmon writes "Mike and I had the fortune of getting to stay at Winona this fall on our way to the Whites for a hike up the Baldface trail (first climbed as a camper!). Stephan and Laura gave us a parking spot for our VW van for the night and it was a delight to wake up on the shores of Moose Pond again." Kitty Harmon and her husband own a cabin in the San Juan Islands in Puget Sound. They are based in Seattle and have an 11 year old daughter. Vicky Curtis writes this is her 28th year at Northfield MT Hermon School and she is still enjoying it. Sister, Claire Curtis, who lives in Charleston, South Carolina, has eight-year old twins. Chuck Steward is enjoying sharing his love for skiing and sailing with the grandchildren. His sailboat is docked in Seattle; grandchildren live in Colorado. Johanne and Bill McIvor came for winter fun, cross country skiing and a Maine visit. In their retirement from public school, Bill is the Headmaster for a small Boys Choir School in Boston. Johanne is doing part time choral directing at Suffolk University and directing musicals for several school districts this spring.

Barb Trafton reported that sister Sally Trafton passed away this winter from pancreatic cancer. Sally had moved back to her home state of Maine recently and settled in the Brunswick area with her family. Sally accomplished decades of tireless advocacy work as a lawyer in the fields of Public Health and Alzheimer's disease. Sally spent 11 summers as a camper and counselor, and then returned to Family Camp several years. Sally loved the outdoors and was a marathon runner. Becky Trafton is working hard on an event to introduce a new conservancy, a public private partnership, to restore a deteriorated but fabulous naturalistic garden owned by the National Park Service in the heart of Washington, DC. Her three children are happy, grown and fine.

Frischkorn Children

Hannah Edmunds is living in Brooklyn again, with her wonderful four children. Hannah said she hopes to bring her two seven-year olds for a visit to Wyonegonic. Her sister, Leah Edmunds, also lives in Brooklyn. She and Simon are expecting their second child in the summer.

Brad Adams of Sullivan Island South Carolina reports that two of their three children are now married. His sister, Abbie Adams, will be a Wyonegonic nurse this summer. Abbie is the mother of Kate Mast who was a camper in the late nineties. Kate is teaching English as a second language at the college level in Cambridge Massachusetts. She has applied for graduate school. Sarah Cloud writes she is teaching math in Cordova. She is still coaching the varsity cross country and track and field teams. Anne White Girian is considering camp for her 4th grader Elizabeth. They came in for a summer walk through. Anne Kenny Urban's daughter, Lilly, will be starting Junior Camp. The Urbans reside in Richmond VA. Sarah Glidden's book was published last month and is getting rave reviews. How to Understand Israel in 60 Days or Less is a serious full length book in comic form that Sarah both wrote and illustrated in water colors. Her book was named one of the top 10 non-fiction books of 2010 by Entertainment Weekly and Time/Techland's top 10 list of graphic novels for 2010!

Catie Lindsey Olinski and her husband are part time residents in Lovell, Maine. They come up any weekend they can get away from their Connecticut jobs. Missy Lindsey is re married and projects that she and her husband will retire to Bridgton in a few years. They are currently professors at Trinity College and making home improvements in Bridgton on weekend visits. Sarah Rebick says "I think I'm in the best shape of my life as I ran a pretty fast half marathon in Phoenix a few weeks ago and am doing another in Texas this weekend. She is running and skiing. In addition to improving her tele skills, she has been skate skiing. Barbie Atwood Cobb and family enjoyed a week of skiing in Steamboat Springs in February. Barbie and her two girls Abby and Ellie will be at Wyo this summer.

Wyonegonic Memories

from TC Scornavacchi (Theresa Cannon)

TC is the Executive Producer of The Michael Smerconish Program and lives outside Philadelphia with her husband Joey and daughter Emma, a current Wyonegonic camper.

I will never tire of reading about how campers bring the magic that is Wyonegonic with them throughout their lives. I know it's a shared experience for all of us lucky enough to have spent summers on the shore of Moose Pond. I'm a radio producer and many a crazy-busy-detail-filled-deadline-crunched-technically-challenging day makes me close my eyes for just a second to see pine needles under my feet as I walk the cabin line - deep breath - ok, all's well!

I loved my summers at Wyonegonic as a girl - and now find it even more amazing to experience camp as a mother. My daughter Emma is so looking forward to her 3rd summer at camp - full session this year! And can I tell you something? I am so grateful - so enormously grateful - that Wyonegonic has stayed so true to the magic that I remember.

My first memory of Wyonegonic was before I even got to Camp. On the bus en route from Logan Airport to Denmark, Maine - a girl 2 rows in front of me turned around and said "Hi, my name is Emily!" and just like that a friendship started. As any Wyonegonic camper knows - there's nothing like spending 7 weeks together to really get to know each other. My Emma has repeated that experience - with camp friends from all over the world now staying in touch through the winter via Facebook - a technical advance that allows the closeness of the summer to continue.

And yet...the girls are fine without all that technology during the summer. In this day and age of smart phones and iPads and laptops and Kindles and texting and IMing and on and on - to have Emma spend the summer without all those accessories is so unbelievably refreshing. And this is from someone who is never (ever!) without her blackberry and spends more hours a day on-line with the news on a nearby television than she cares to admit.

It seems to me that Wyonegonic has kept sacred all that is good and pure and more important about the summer camp experience while also managing to update and change and grow. I love that Wyonegonic has a gorgeous new website - and it is so easy to get in touch with Carol and camp via email! And I so respect Wyonegonic for keeping camp electronically free. Instead of TV at night it's fabulous EPs and age appropriate memorable silliness.

One thing that hasn't changed - of course - is camp songs! In the 25 or so years since I was a camper, I'm quite certain not a day has gone by without me singing some or all of a song from Wyo. "W-Y-O-N-E-G-O-N-I-C Boom!" I sang them to my husband on road trips when we were newly married. "I was walking past your house, late last night...." I sang them to my classes when I taught elementary school right out of college. "One night as I was walking, one dark and dreary day, I came upon a billboard...." And camp songs were my daughter's lullabies. "I know a place where the sun is like gold, and the cherries bloom forth in the snow...."

I have always thought of Wyonegonic as a thread that weaves its way through all parts of my life - of all our lives. What I realize now with Emma loving camp as much as I did - it's not just a cotton thread but one truly woven of gold.

Thank you, Wyonegonic and Kiyi! TC

The 21st Century

Meg McTurk Lemeiux and her family loved Family Camp. Now daughter Elizabeth is getting eager for camp. Rachel Blake writes, "I've been busy teaching Drama in Australia and have decided to go for a Master's degree in Wilderness Education and Adventure Therapy. This concept is still relatively new in Oz, although the concept is used regularly in America. I am hoping to link my Drama expertise to Outdoor Education, adolescent therapy and further research into personal development in teens. I'm a huge believer in the importance of what you do. Wyo had a large impact on the way I teach towards being more authentic with children and I want to thank you so much for that experience. I hope I can come back one day and assist you again in your positive endeavor." Heidi Froehling still lists Wyo as one of the top things she has done in her life. What a special place you both hold in my heart I am sure raising two beautiful daughters is also high on her list. Heidi is running a successful company.

Farley Collins Lucke made a fall visit to Tish Wick in London to meet her baby girl Gigi. Farley has boys 5, 3 and going on two. "I can't believe I don't have any girls to go to Wyo!! Gigi will have to go and tell my boys all about it!" She writes "Betsy Waughtel and her siblings are selling their three season cottage on Highland Lake in Bridgton, Maine. Anyone wanting more information can contact Betsy at bwaughtel@rochester.rr.com." It is amazing how many camp families end up with vacation property in this area rich with lakes. Betsy stopped by at the end of summer for a Wyo walk through. Sue Louis lives in Maine and came to the Wescott wedding. She enjoyed parking her trailer near Moose Pond, close to the cries of the loons. She writes, "The importance of camp at the wedding was really grounding for me and must make you feel the importance of what you do. Tell Susie that I loved meeting her dogs (and super nice husband) and that Wiggie might be the name of my next golden. Camp looks fantastic."

Alexis Ordway is skiing in the Gould Sunday River Ski Program. She also likes her gymnastics. She has had two years of perfect attendance in school. Her family plans to move from Bethel to Gorham, Maine, which will be closer to Maine Medical where her Mom works as a nurse practitioner. Jess Scalzi has completed her Master's in secondary English education at the University of New Hampshire. Her twin Mell Scalzi is working in NYC as a collection manager at MOCCA. Irene Loedolff had an evening in Cape Town with Tish Yohn Will and her husband when they were in South Africa for a visit. Irene is enjoying her active children Helena, 2 years and Gerhard, 6 months.

In late February, we lost the patriarchs of two Wyonegonic/Winona families who have been instrumental in spreading their joys of camp on Moose Pond to the next two generations. Both David Kearns and David Lubrano loved their days at Winona so much they bought vacation property on Moose Pond. Both were extremely successful business men, both owned homes on Johns Island in Vero Beach, FL, both were generous supporters of Loon Echo Land Trust which is still saving acreage on Pleasant MT, both visited grandchildren at camp each summer . . . The names listed below are Wyonegonic alums or current Wyo campers/staff of David Kearns. There are just as many Winona related fathers and grandsons at the other end of the pond. The daughters and granddaughters of David Kearns are: Anne Kearns Fields (Sara Fields, Megan Fields); Kathy Kearns Frame (Caitlin Frame); Susan Kearns Alderman (Callie Alderman); Betsy Kearns Young (Heather Young); Granddaughter Ellory Kearns is daughter of Andy and Kayleigh Kearns. David Kearns, retired CEO of Xerox once told Carol that when things would get tough at work, he would close his eyes and pretend he was paddling down the Saco River to restore peace and solitude. The daughters and granddaughters of David Lubrano are: Kathy Lubrano Robinson; Stacey Lubrano Lamson; Jenny Lubrano Clayton (Ellie Clayton); Beth Lubrano Dwyer (Grace Dwyer and Meagan Cervini). David Lubrano assisted Wyonegonic with the funds to build the fireplace at the Cobb Dining Hall in memory of his first wife Jean who passed away over a decade ago. A Moose Pond tradition that was told at his memorial service by his son Steve was that at about age 8, Dave would take each grandchild out in a canoe on Moose Pond and when least expecting, he would capsize the canoe and then teach them how to stay calm and use their head when unexpected things in life happened. Both men were admired teachers and have had a huge influence on family, friends and people in the workplace. Thank you to all Wyonegonic and Winona alums for attending the memorial services for these generous and remarkable men.

Kate Scott flew from California to join camp friends at Suki Smith's house during the holidays. Michelle Thibodeaux loves her boarding school in California and is trying her hand as a DJ with a weekly show on her school's radio station. Steph Farnham Puchalski is the chair of the Math

Carlyn and Jared

Department at her Private Day School in New Jersey while husband Joe commutes to NYC. She is also coaching track. Sarah Mack Christian and husband Tim continue to work hiking into their New Hampshire lives. Sarah is completing her Master's Degree in teaching. Sanne de Jong writes from the Netherlands, "I still work at an amusement park/holiday resort and I like it a lot. Although the summer is also high season, so I can't get off for a summer break in Maine." James Laird stopped for a camp visit with Steve while on a vacation trip from Australia. We have James to thank for the design of the tables in the Cobb Dining Hall. Keziah Trafton is rowing for the University of Virginia. She has worked hard even though she intercepted strong rowing genes from Dad (Rowing Coach) and Mom, Barb Trafton. Liza Trafton, who is home based in NYC, enjoyed being on Moose Pond Shores for the Wescott wedding. Carlyn Patterson entertained Wyonegonic friends at her Fall wedding: Carolyn Findeisen; Anna Skeele; Molly Schneider, Jill Gasperini, Carol Sudduth plus sister bridesmaids Cat and Sara. Mom, Donna, was rightly beaming with smiles and rightly proud. Donna continues with her hours as a Nurse Practitioner; Cat is working and living at home; Sara is in graduate school at the U of Delaware; and Carlyn continues her studies in med school.

The Wescott Family

Sarah Rackliffe totally enjoyed her time spent in Costa Rica teaching English to young children. She did manage to come back to Maine for bridesmaid duties with camp friends, Elizabeth "Zab" Schultz Bioteau and Whitney Jamison, for Abbie Wescott Garrels' wedding last August. Abbie and Chris wrote after their camp wedding, "It was magical having all our camp friends together at Wyo and beyond our wildest dreams come true. Thank you for creating our "camp family" and allowing us to celebrate with family and friends.

The 21st Century

Whitney Jamison has moved out of the classroom to be dean of students at a Baltimore school. Ben Ricketts and Sarah Kelsey are planning a spring wedding. Maggie Brenner came to the NYC Reunion. She has returned from working in an orphanage in Malawi where she developed curriculum and taught English to school age children. She hopes to find a teaching position at a private school in the USA. Rachel Kelly and fiancé Matt plan to marry on July 23 on the Breckenridge Ski Slopes. They are based in Denver and making home improvements a priority. Rachel is teaching and taking graduate courses at the University of Denver Master's program in curriculum and instruction. Abbey Atwood is in her fifth year of teaching history in Oakland where she also coaches new teachers. She is exploring options of grad schools for educational policy making and school administration. Aislinn Smith has spent the winter working at "Ruggers" in Springfield, Massachusetts and playing as much rugby as possible in New York, Massachusetts and Spain. Avery Forbes, Liz Staley, and Aislinn are making plans to hike the Appalachian Trail starting in Georgia in March, destination Mt Katahdin in Maine 6 months later. This trip has been talked about since age 12 when they were camper friends. If you would like to tune in during their hike, log onto 2011thruhike.blogspot.com.

Kelly Hardon writes that she is eager to be a counselor and come full circle so she can give to kids the experiences and growth that she received over the years of being a camper. Chris Schiller took a three week backpacking trip in Indonesia. He remains director of an outdoor education program in Sydney Australia. (See insert of article) Thanks Chris and Heidi Froehling for representing Wyonegonic at a Staff Hiring Fair in Sydney. Chris said he thinks of Wyo often, "the nightly chorus of the loons, stunning sunsets over Moose Pond and singing songs of evening circle". Anne Barnard is in med school and returning to camp as a counselor; sister, Jane hiked in Ecuador in the high mountains at 19,000 feet during January break from school. Catherine Debois O'Callaghan, Alum and Mom of four Wyo girls, reports that none of her daughters will be at camp this summer. Allie is going to try to hone her lacrosse and basketball skills before entering high school in the fall; Kate is at Colby and skiing whenever possible at Sugarloaf; Charlotte is heading off to Hobart & William Smith in Geneva, New York in the fall.

The O'Callaghan's

Kate Dillon is in her senior year at William and Mary College. Her sister, Maggie, returns for her last year in Senior Camp at Wyo. Jenny Edmondson says she is working at a country club in the UK working the front desk and doing some coaching on the side! She looks forward to a summer on Moose Pond. Lucy Robson came to the DC Reunion with Kat Connors. She is working at home as a Para-professional for SpEd kindergarteners at a local elementary school while applying for urban planning master's programs. Kat is pursuing acting jobs. Kate Humphrey is in an Urban Planning program at Michigan. She'll be spending the summer with site plans, zoning codes and mixed use developments rather than sailing on Moose Pond. Juan Carlos Flores is working at the Marriott in Cancun. He writes, "Three years at Wyo has been the most important experience in my life." Mauricio Ramirez plans to return for another summer from Mexico and will be graduating from Vet School soon.

Ceidleigh Bryce came to Denmark for a March visit. She could be seen tearing up the ski slopes on her snowboard at Shawnee Peak on Pleasant Mountain, Wildcat and Sunday River ski areas. Claire King writes, "Be it Europe or Africa for me this summer, Grier Barnes, Molly Landis, Jane Sullivan, Caroline Myers and I are all planning to end our summers with a visit to Spain to see Paloma Garnica. So hopefully I'll get my Wyo fix." Caroline Myers is a freshman at Colorado College and ran into Susie Sudduth Hammond on the ski slopes of Breckinridge in February. Teresa Price is working in

Ft. Myers Florida. She reports that her daughter was married in the fall. Claire Schreiber started a new job in December in the Freeport Public Schools. She is planning a summer wedding July 16 to Winona boyfriend, Brem Stoner. Erin Rourck is starting her new RN position at Maine Medical and working the night shift - three 12 hour days a week. Darcy Conlin and the kids look forward to a return for Session II on Moose Pond. They have been skiing Shawnee Peak on Pleasant Mountain every weekend. Jane Sitarz is teaching in Jordan and making the most of life in the Middle East with travels. She is co-coordinator for music curriculum. Elizabeth Perkins enjoyed her experience at the Mountain School in Vermont. MC Coon will be married on June 25th in Arkansas. She is an educator with Herfer International in Little Rock, planning school education programs. Elizabeth Coon is at Berklee College of Music in Boston for a degree in musical therapy and will return to Denver. Margaret Coon is a freshman at Gettysburg College. Lindsay Twiss is finishing her senior year at GW and also interning for the Washington Wizards NBA team.

Zoe Siegel will be working on a community service project in Costa Rica for part of the summer. Tasha Rosener Friedell has a job as an Outdoor Recreation Specialist. Tasha writes, "I plan and take out trips around Japan that involve hiking, kayaking, skiing/snowboarding, camping, surfing and a bunch of other stuff. I'm so excited because it will feel like camp. Unfortunately, they don't have sailing anymore but maybe someday!"

Matt & Tasha

Haley McCalpin was named co-captain of the JV soccer team, singing with the all-girls a cappella group, studying hard and looking forward to her spring semester at the Island School. Morgan Ingari is a film major at NYU. She recently won an award for Best Screenplay at a 48 hour film festival. Kezia Gray has been traveling around the world; Malaysia, Thailand, Vietnam, Cambodia and India. She plans to live in the UK for the next two years and tackle the European continent. Mairi Stobbart, Andrew Humphreys and Logan Reese have

While on her travels she has spent time with fellow Wyo trip leader Amelia Walker and they were joined by Cathy Starling who joined them from Australia and Kelly White who traveled to New Zealand from Maine.

Four Hikers in New Zealand

Maddie Woods has been teaching skiing to 3 year olds at Sunday River every weekend. Steve and Sami Sudduth celebrated their February birthdays on the ski slopes of Breckenridge with Sami's cousins Luke and Ellie, children of David and Becky Sudduth. Sami loves Providence College. Chris, Dawn and Olivia Wentworth have a new puppy. Cooper is a Husky German Shepard cross. Isa Hubsch and Leti Vazquez reported that the family of Samantha Saldivia had an airplane accident in Venezuela. Sammy was the only survivor and is now living with relatives. She has had two summers at Wyo and was Junior Wishing Girl in 2009. Catherine Engelmann and her Dad enjoyed Vail skiing over the holiday vacation. Catherine is enjoying her new school, Horace Mann. Elle Lucas is enjoying a good year of high school including goalie on the soccer team. Emma Robson enjoyed running cross country at Middlebury College, she will be graduating this spring.

Pamela Battey Mitchell Riding Program at Wyonegonic Camps

In loving memory of Pamela Battey Mitchell (June 3, 1934 - November 10, 2010), Pamela's family has made an important gift to Wyonegonic's riding program, which has been renamed in her honor. Pamela attended Wyonegonic the summers of 1947-1949 and she remembered these summers and the camp with tremendous fondness throughout her life. Pamela was a student at Oak Grove School in Maine, which shared horses with Wyonegonic. She was an accomplished rider who loved horses and spent as much time as she could at the barn, both at school and camp.

Pamela Mitchell & granddaughters Sophie and Maddie Woods, October 2010

Her three children learned Wyonegonic songs from a young age and her daughters Laurie Mitchell Woods (Wyo '78) and Amy Mitchell Poeppel (Wyo '77, '78, '82) and granddaughters Maddie Woods (Wyo '05-present) and Sophie Woods (Wyo '07-'08) all share her love of Wyonegonic. Her grandsons Alex, Andrew, and Luke Poeppel and Calvin Woods have all been campers at Winona and share her admiration of Moose Pond and camp traditions.

Pamela attended Bennington College and graduated from Colorado College, where she was an art and dance major. She spent her married life in Dallas, Texas with her husband of fifty years, Dr. Jere Mitchell. Pamela had a deep connection and understanding of animals and nature. She was a committed environmentalist and a strong believer in preserving open space and habitats for native plants and animals to thrive. Her family believes that Wyonegonic was important in shaping her dedication to nature and that a gift to Wyonegonic sustains her memory by helping to provide a similar experience to future generations of girls. Wyonegonic is proud to honor her life.

The Hale Family

The Hales continue enjoying family adventures on skis, mountains and water. Last fall they climbed Mt. Washington, Zealand and Hale. This winter they enjoyed a ski trip to Switzerland. Allison, Anne and Zoe will be returning to camp. Taya Gasperini is living at home and working for the Lexington Schools as a teacher aide at the kindergarten level. Her Mom, Jill Gasperini has turned into a hard core Boston Celtic basketball fan and tries to see them play at least once a month. Jill remains in her challenging job as Nurse Leader for

It's All About the Journey

from Chris Schiller (Wyo Trip Leader)
2004-2009

As the Operations Manager for an Outdoor Education company in Australia, I often find myself telling staff and students it is not about the destination, it's all about the journey. Yet as I sit here reflecting on where I am in my career today, I reach the conclusion that it is in this case, all about the trigger...

Wyonegonic for me was the unintentional trigger at the junction of a hospitality management career and some five year travelling the globe. Unsure where the next transient path would lead I ended up with a call in early 2004 from Susie Sudduth-Hammond asking "what do you think about working at a female camp in Maine? ...oh, you have 24 hours to give me an answer".

With the mindset of an awesome jaunt to the US and a little more time to stall the next decision in life, I frivolously thought "how hard could that really be?" never thinking that seven years later I would view the flippant decision as one which paved the journey.

Having never worked at length with children of any age or in the outdoor profession Susie took quite a chance. My summers of '04 & '05 in Inty camp as a trip leader kindled an interest and passion for opening young eyes and showing the wonder and enjoyment that lays hidden in the wilderness landscape while bravely stepping outside of comfort zones and grasping new experiences. Trip Leading brought together my zeal for the outdoors, travel and highlighted the satisfaction and rewards that could be gained from working with and guiding campers. Of course the support and network of wonderful staff from the US and across the world ensured there was never a dull moment or friend to share a flaming sunset across the pond (or willing counterpart in a friendly prank on the other end of camp). All the while, intentions of returning home and stepping back into the hospitality trade for the long haul were in mind.

Austin Hartwell wrote this essay for English class.

"Marta and I always made lunch together. I dug through the buckets to find the almonds and apricots while Marta washed the bowls or cut the cheese. We always did it together. I was never very good at making lunch before the trip. I always cut the bananas too thick or didn't put enough peanut butter on. But when I made lunch with Marta, it always worked out. She wouldn't let me cut the cheese too thick, and I always made sure that everyone had their share of Jolly Ranchers. No matter what had happened before or after, nothing seemed to matter more during those moments than making lunch for the day.

On my 19-day canoe trip, there were a lot of activities like this; activities that demanded absolute concentration of all ten participants, no matter what. We white-water canoed in Class 3 rapids, we portaged canoes for three miles, and we cooked all of our meals by ourselves. There was never a moment when you were working alone, you couldn't function without the group and the group couldn't function without you.

Significance, to me, represents something that has shaped you, or something that has allowed you to reflect on yourself and your peers. If there was one significant event in my life, this trip was the one. I canoed with Kelly for two days straight. She was the stern, I was the bow. We were equally and solely responsible for each other and that was scary. Kelly called the shots and I followed, always contradicting when I thought she had steered us wrong. I couldn't let her steer us into that rock, or send us down the rapid that would dump us over. I trusted her with everything, and that is something that is not easy for me to do. Kelly and I worked together for those two days because we had to. Because neither one of us could have done it alone. In that canoe, and throughout the trip, I learned that to be part of a team, you have to let the other players play too. I couldn't make all the decisions on my own. I couldn't make lunch without Marta, and I couldn't have made it those 242 miles home without my peers paddling with me.

I was scared to light a match. I was scared to cook. I was scared to not shower for 19 days. My fears were irrelevant. I had to light the stove, I had to cook the food, and showers definitely aren't up for grabs in the Northern Maine Wilderness. I could be scared, and I was, but that didn't keep me from the stove or my dinner each night, and it certainly didn't keep me from the trip. Fear inspired me. It willed me to go on; taunting me with the things I hadn't done before because I had been too afraid. I know now that fear won't get me anywhere. It won't get me down the rapids. It won't get me to the campsite, and it couldn't get me a warm shower no matter how much I wanted it. This trip taught me to trust and appreciate who I am, and that is why it is significant."

PROSPECTIVE CAMPERS

Wyonegonic is currently enrolling campers ages 8-12 for Summer 2011; ages 13-18 are waitlisted. Interested families may call us at 207-452-2051 or email info@wyonegonic.com. Please advise them to study www.wyonegonic.com.

Family Camp

what others are saying...

"Family camp... is where my children learned independence and responsibility, and where we have, for the last 17 years, experienced the rewards of lifetime friendships, and the joy of having unabated fun."

"... The experience is renewing every year, and a spiritual high that lasts from August to August."

"The children love the freedom of going to their favorite activities and we adults feel free to pick and choose how active we want to be. My sister and I especially love to come together with our children for a fun, low-stress time in a beautiful and memorable place!"

Family Camp Program

Family Camp offers two different types of programs; staff led activities and those that you can do by yourself. All boating activities require a swim evaluation.

Staff led activities

- Swimming
- Sailing
- Water skiing (age 11 and up)
- Sail boarding (age 11 and up)
- Archery
- Crafts
- Day canoe trip (Session II only)
- Ropes Course (age 11 and up)
- Pleasant Mountain hike
- Evening programs for all ages

Activities

- Canoeing, rowing, funyaks, kayaks
- Tennis
- Volleyball
- Fishing (license required)
- Basketball
- Hiking
- Paddleboards (new for 2011)

Extra Fee Activities

Family Camp Fees and Dates

Fees are shown, per individual, per session.

There is a reduced fee for Juniors (age 5-10) and Seniors (over 65). There is no charge for children under age 5. No adjustments are made for people arriving late or departing early.

	Adult	Age 5-10/Seniors
Session I:	$200	$100
Dates:	Aug 19 lunch - Aug 22 breakfast
Session II:	$270	$135
Dates:	Aug 22 dinner - Aug 26 lunch
Session III:	$130	$ 65
Dates:	Aug 26 dinner - Aug 28 lunch

(Families are welcome to stay through Wednesday, September, 1.)

There is a housing fee per session in addition to the attendee fees listed above.

Session 1: Cabin - $150	Tent - $45
Session 2: Cabin - $200	Tent - $60
Session 3: Cabin - $100	Tent - $30

The deposit is required with registration. Cancellations after April 15th will forfeit the deposit. 50% of the attendee amount is due April 15th. The remaining 50% is due July 15th. There are no refunds for cancellations that occur after July 15, 2011.

We encourage you to consider sharing a cabin with friends to reduce overall costs. New families will be assigned housing upon availability.
